

Double Accreditation
13/07/06

Local printing company, AlphaGraphics recently achieved the Investors in People accreditation at 4 of its 5 North East sites.

It was the Head Office, based in Stockton and its additional site within the Wilton Centre and the Sunderland based business and its additional site in Durham, which attained the accreditation, within days of each other.

Sean Costigan, Managing Director said of the achievement; 'Receiving the Investors in People recognition for 4 of our sites at the same time is a huge accomplishment for our group. We continually encourage the development of our team through training courses and one to one assessments and this has now been recognised with this accreditation. We are now going to work towards our Newcastle based business achieving Investors in People status.'

In conjunction with achieving Investors in People status and the continuing growth the business has experienced over the past 24 months, 4 of the company's senior managers have recently received legal directorship of the businesses they work in.

The business started in the North East in 1993 and has continued to grow year on year. Today the company employs almost 90 members of staff across its 5 sites and this year is projected to turn over close to £6 million.
